UNITED NATIONS WORLD INTERFAITH HARMONY WEEK

Sponsored by the Calgary Interfaith Council

January 31 - February 7, 2019

Welcome

Calgary is blessed by a broad diversity of religious faiths whose origins and history originate from places that span the globe. Our city is enriched by the broad spectrum of languages, foods, and cultures that define Calgary's international flavour. The ability of these religions, in particular, to flourish in a setting of respect and dignity is essential for the city's future.

The intention of the Calgary Interfaith Council's sponsorship of UN World Interfaith Harmony Week is to join with similar efforts throughout Canada and internationally to promote peaceful coexistence in the face of intolerance, prejudice, and conflict.

Over the past several years, great strides have been made to create interfaith dialogues and educational programs to foster greater understanding and respect that can lead to the building of harmonious relationships between Calgary's faith communities.

We are proud of the presence of active clergy and laity from all faiths whose passion is interfaith work and who devote their time, energy, and resources to enhancing the quality of life for all Calgarians.

We encourage you to become aware, learn, and appreciate the contribution of the interfaith community through the exciting array of programs and activities during this week of harmony.

Calgary Interfaith Council

Promoting Interfaith Harmony & Understanding

The formation of the Calgary Interfaith Council in 2017 at the UN World Interfaith Harmony Week Opening Ceremony represented the hope of religious leaders for a new and re-energized interfaith effort that would more effectively harness the wisdom and good works of Calgary's religious communities for the greater good of our city.

It is the vision of the Calgary Interfaith Council to become the voice and central address of interfaith activities in Calgary and, as such, to achieve its mission to:

- Promote respect, understanding, and collaboration among the religious communities of Calgary (through education, dialogue, mutual worship experiences, and social justice),
- Provide government and media with a single reputable contact for information and communication with and about the various religious communities in Calgary,
- Model for Calgary interfaith relationships characterized by respect, understanding, mutual support and collaboration.

Among our shared core values are respect for religious diversity, compassion for those in need, building bridges of understanding, and fostering interfaith relationships through education, dialogue, mutual worship experiences, and social justice.

The Calgary Interfaith Council invites you to join us in this exciting venture by participating in our events and giving of your time and resources to further our worthy goals.

Calgary Interfaith Council Invites You to Take the Civility Pledge

I Choose Civility: Listening, Caring, Engaging

Practicing Civility in the Home, Workplace, and Public Arena

The Calgary Interfaith Council functions on the principle that listening, caring, and engaging others with respect and humility are essential to building healthy and harmonious relationships among people of all faiths and backgrounds. Hospitality is central to all religious and ethnic traditions. Civility is the most basic ingredient in hospitality. As such it is the virtue that sustains a pluralistic society. Civility makes it safe for us to live together and learn to celebrate our differences so that we may experience the benefits of diversity.

We invite you sign the CIC Civility Pledge and be a force for enhancing our society. Please sign the pledge below and take your place among women, men and children who are committed to restoring civility to personal and public discourse.

The CIC Civility Pledge

1. I pledge to embrace the principle that all people are created equal and that each person possesses inherent dignity and goodness.
2. I pledge to encourage genuine dialogue with people who identify as minorities in order to enhance community inclusiveness.
3. I pledge to prioritize relationships over ideologies by striving to appreciate people whose ideas I may disagree with.
4. I pledge to respect others' experiences as true and valid for them and seek to come to new understandings through honest conversations.
5. I pledge to renounce stereotyping and prejudices, including those based on race, ethnicity, religion, sex or gender, and ability.
6. I pledge to enhance my capacity for empathy and compassion by living in the present moment and letting go resentments that derive from my personal history and my cultural memory.
7. I pledge to engage people in an open and neighborly spirit, sharing their joys and sorrows, and caring about their human problems and concerns.
8. I pledge to impart my views with honesty and sincerity on the basis of mutual trust without compromising my faith or principles.
9. I pledge to engage persons of all religions in order to accord them freedom and human rights.
10. I pledge to encourage others to engage in similar efforts to bring civility and compassion in their daily conversations in the home, workplace, and public arena.
